

Ku-ring-gai NSW Police Local Area Command (LAC)

eNewsletter # 312 - 02 October 2017

This weekly eNewsletter is compiled by Neighbourhood Watch volunteers as a service for residents in the NSW Police Force - Ku-ring-gai Local Area Command (LAC), which includes most of the Hornsby and Ku-ring-gai council areas. The eNewsletter is a new type of Neighbourhood Watch; utilising the available technology to keep people more connected and up-to-date with local crime and safety issues.

The eNewsletter includes a selection of posts from the Kuring-gai LAC Facebook page (also known as 'eyewatch'), primarily for those not familiar with Facebook. We add anything interesting from a Neighbourhood Watch point-of-view - this could be a local newspaper article, a roadwork warning, crime prevention tip(s), an upcoming Neighbourhood Watch meeting, Q&As from residents, or an item from an other Police command ("Crooks know no boundaries!").

🚗 Have you seen anything we should share with the community? Please email our NHW in Ku-ring-gai & Hornsby volunteers. We do value your contributions. Thank you for your support.

🚗 Please feel free to share/forward this eNewsletter with your friends, family, colleagues and neighbours.

QUICK QUESTION: Do you always set your burglar alarm when you leave your home? A worrying number of break-ins recently have been into properties where there is a burglar alarm, but it hasn't been set! As alarm isn't an alarm if it hasn't been activated. Similarly, a lock isn't a lock if it isn't locked. SENSE RESPONSE - think matter too.

DRIVEWAY WHITE LINES: (Legal parking across your driveway) White lines really do help stop it. Please contact us to borrow a wooden stencil & instructions for the marking of white lines to define your driveway. We also have an "Illegal Parking" flyer that can be placed on offending vehicles - detailing the 3 parking rules commonly broken - driveways, mail boxes & intersections - with a polite request that they please don't do it again.

NELSON ST PAUL BOK: Killing Gall Council responded to our request. We now have proper signage regarding illegal vehicles adjacent to Nelson St Mail Box. Do you need our help with an issue near you? Please email us.

CURRENT WARNING: REPEAT! Please be aware of Mail Theft, particularly leading to Identity Theft or Fraud. Request: Our 20 Favourite Crime Prevention Tips for Mailboxes from NESS@killinggall.com.au.

IDENTITY SAFETY TIP(S) OF THE MONTH - yes, we're working on our own 20 Tips... watch this space!

- Shred all old documents with your details on. Maybe offer the shredded paper to pet stores?
 - Simply tear out your name and address from generic letters and tear it into teeny-weeny bits to throw in the garbage. Then you can recycle the rest of the letter.
 - Scan your documents to store them digitally. Then you can dispose of the paper copy (as above).
 - Shred or cut into many pieces your old credit cards, loyalty cards, etc.
 - Store your loyalty cards digitally using the various phone Apps such as Stocard.
- Note: NHW cannot endorse a product or service - you must do your own research.
- Photocopy/Scan both sides of all credit cards in your wallet. Store the information digitally, in case of emergencies such as theft.
 - Arm yourself with knowledge about IDENTITY CRIME (see Wed 15 Nov - Dates for the Diary above).

28 September, from Crime Stoppers: Modern life is all about easy access and convenience in how we receive and send goods and information.

Items such as credit cards, driver's licences and utility statements sent out in the

By following some of these simple tips we all can better protect ourselves from this type of crime.

Secure your mail

- Always install a lockable mailbox.
- Always use a quality lock on your mailbox.
- Never allow your mailbox to become full or overflow.

Protect your mail

- Always arrange to collect new credit cards from the bank or post office.
- Always have mail held at the post office or collected by a friend when you're away for extended periods.
- Always have your mail cleared daily.

Protect your identity

- Always beware of 'cold calling' and confirm who you are talking to.
- Never give any of your personal details to people you don't know or trust.
- Always contact your bank, financial institution or service provider if you think you have been contacted by a scammer.

If you are aware of mail being stolen and used to obtain fraudulent identity, please contact Crime Stoppers on 1800 333 000 or online at www.crimestoppers.com.au

APOLOGY - Last week we had a broken link. Our elves have fixed it!

From Stay Smart Online, 20 September: Safe or risky: saving passwords in your browser

It's convenient and easy—especially as we can't remember so many passwords—so when our browser helpfully offers to save our login credentials, why would we say no? Is saving passwords in our browser really that much riskier than a password manager? What's the difference?

Full Media Release from the government's Stay Smart Online here.

Thanks to Stan, extracts from "Keep Your Personal Identity Safe", reprinted from Go 55s Quarterly Newspaper, Autumn 2016:

- Use a phantom Date of Birth when you subscribe or register online and a date of birth is a compulsory field, but not legally required. For example use 01/01/ followed by your year of birth to keep your age demographic intact, but your identity safe.
- Once you've finished online activity particularly financial transactions - log off immediately.

- When making a payment through a secure online site, always untick the box that suggests 'keep these payment details on file'.
- Set up a separate email address, and credit card with a minimal credit limit, for online shopping.

27 September, from Crime Stoppers: CCTV Cameras for your business.

Closed Circuit Television, or CCTV cameras are an important security feature for your business. They can help police with further investigation if anything illegal should ever happen.

CCTV cameras systems are 'insurance': Every business owner is worried about losing their belongings or stock to theft or break ins! CCTV cameras allow you to press rewind and find out what really happened.

CCTV camera systems are a 'deterrent': If burglars can see your CCTV camera installations they may not enter your premises for fear of being identified.

CCTV camera systems are 'evidence gathering': Whatever takes place is captured on camera, making it easy to identify the perpetrator and bring them to justice. CCTV footage is often used in court as evidence.

CCTV cameras are 'helpful': Police can use footage to highlight instances of crime and make appeals to identify perpetrators. CCTV is an ever present witness.

CCTV camera systems are 'safety': CCTV security systems are not just cameras recording footage, systems can be accessed remotely so that you can "check in" on places and people while you're not there.

CCTV camera systems lets you 'keep tabs': Remote access is also great for business people on the go who simply want to keep an eye on what is going on back at base. It can also protect staff against false allegations such as short changing or instances of assault.

CCTV camera systems are 'professional': It shows that you are professional about your business, your brand, your staff and your visitors.

Have you considered CCTV camera systems for your business?

Street Watch page 8:

COWAN A 45-year-old Central Coast man died after he came off his motorbike on the Old Pacific Highway on Saturday. Emergency services were called to the scene about 11.30am after reports of a crash. The man was treated by paramedics at the scene but could not be revived. Police said it is believed the rider was trying to pass another motorcycle when he struck an armco railing and was thrown from his motorbike. Police have urged anyone with information to contact Crime Stoppers.

WAHROONGA A 37-year-old Cabramatta woman will face charges following an incident on the M1 Motorway on Sunday about 11.30pm. Police said the woman was driving along the M1 about 6km north of the Wahroonga exit and was seen by other motorists to be swerving in and out of the three lanes of traffic and nearly colliding with other cars. Witnesses called triple zero (000). At one point the woman's car collided with the concrete barrier in the centre of the road, which caused her to veer sharply to the left and collide with the shoulder, causing damage to the car. She continued driving and eventually broke down just past the Wahroonga off-ramp and passing motorists again called 000. Police arrived and spoke to the driver and issued a roadside breath test, which was negative for alcohol. The woman was arrested and taken to Hornsby Hospital for mandatory tests. Police said partial admissions were made to consuming a prescribed drug. The woman was released pending blood and urine analysis and police said at this stage she has been charged and further charges are expected to be laid.

WAHROONGA A 19-year-old Cheltenham man's licence was suspended and he received a court attendance notice after allegedly recording a highrange PCA. Police said the man was driving on Carrington Ave in the early hours of Monday when he drove through an intersection without stopping. He attempted to make a left turn but failed, overshot the corner and collided with a tree. Residents notified police who attended and issued a roadside breath test, which allegedly came back positive. The man was arrested and taken to Hornsby police station where a breath test allegedly returned a reading of 0.164.

HORNSBY HEIGHTS A 49-year-old Hornsby Heights man's licence was suspended and he was given a field court attendance notice after allegedly recording a midrange PCA. The man was stopped at an RBT station on Galston Rd about 9.10pm on September 19. Police said they could smell alcohol on his breath and a roadside breath test was positive. The man was taken to Hornsby police station where a breath test allegedly resulted in a reading of 0.130.

ASQUITH Police are investigating after a fake $100 note was used at BP Asquith. About 6am on Saturday, a man described as Pacific Islander in appearance, 180cm tall, large build and wearing a tradesperson's uniform bought $46 worth of items using a $100 note. Later, staff had a closer look at the note and discovered it may have been a forgery. Police were called and obtained CCTV footage and a vehicle description. The note was forwarded to the Australian Federal Police who discovered it was counterfeit.

BEROWRA Police and firefighters were called to a blaze at a rural property on the Pacific Highway during a total fire ban day on Sunday. About 4:30pm, fire crews attended the property and smoke could be seen coming from the rear.

Police said several tree logs had been piled up on the ground and were smouldering. Three men at the location denied any knowledge of the fire. Police were called and said the men claimed they had come home the night before from a party and no one could remember who lit the fire. Police said they would seek advice from fire authorities on whether any further action would be taken against the men.

TWO southbound lanes at Pennant Hills Rd will close from Sunday (October 1) for the next two months as part of work on the NorthConnex motorway. Repairs will be carried out between Murray Farm Rd and Hannah St in West Pennant Hills where excavation and concreting work will be done at Pennant Hills Rd southbound. Works are from Sunday to Thursday between 9pm and 5am to create space for the tunnel off-ramp and southbound exit from the NorthConnex tunnel.

Page 9: Suspect in assault cases

DETECTIVES investigating a series of indecent assaults in Sydney's north have released CCTV of a man they wish to speak with. Two of the incidents, in Lindfield and Killara, date back to May and November 2014. In one, a man allegedly pushed a woman to the ground and indecently assaulted her.

STREET WATCH

G O R D O N A man, 54, was driving his 1996 Holden Commodore wagon on the Pacific Highway when drivers alongside him noticed flames coming from his engine bay. The man pulled the vehicle over near the Moree St intersection and Fire and Rescue NSW were called to extinguish the blaze. Investigations found the man's fan belt broke, causing the vehicle to overheat, and the engine caught fire. The man was not injured.

S T I V E S A man, 21, from St Ives has had his P2 licence confiscated after he was allegedly caught speeding in his Holden Commodore near Killeaton St and Memorial Ave. The situation then worsened for the man, when a random breath test by police found that he had been drinking earlier. The man was taken to Hornsby Police Station where he allegedly admitted to drinking before registering a mid-range breath analysis. The man is due to face Hornsby Local Court on October 10.

This man put his sons photo up on the speedometer by the 100 mark , just to remind him that his his son is waiting for him at home , so he won't drive over 100km/h.
