

Neighbourhood Watch in Ku-ring-gai and Hornsby

eNewsletter #420 - 29 October 2019

This weekly eNewsletter is compiled by Neighbourhood Watch volunteers as a service for residents in Ku-ring-gai and Hornsby council areas. The eNewsletter is a new type of Neighbourhood Watch; utilising the available technology to keep people more connected and upto-date with local crime and safety issues.

The eNewsletter includes a selection of posts from the Ku-ring-gai PAC Facebook page (also known as 'eyewatch'), primarily for those not familiar with Facebook. We add anything interesting from a Neighbourhood Watch point-of-view - this could be a local newspaper article, a roadwork warning, crime prevention tip(s), an upcoming Neighbourhood Watch meeting, Q&As from residents, or an item from an other Police command ("Crooks know no boundaries!").

- ⇔ Have you seen anything we should share with the community? Please email our NHW in Kuring-gai & Hornsby volunteers. We do value your contributions. Thank you for your support.
- Please feel free to share/forward this eNewsletter with your friends, family, colleagues and neighbours.

26 October, from Parramatta command: We've been swooping on a number of persons of interest recently as part of an ongoing investigation into antisocial and violent behaviour of gang members across our police area.

The imagery of a swooping eagle is a powerful and old one. Our NSW Police Force insignia features a mighty Australian wedge-tailed eagle in flight with wings elevated and carrying in its talons a scroll bearing the word, 'NEMESIS'. Here the eagle is a symbol of the law of New South Wales, and the word Nemesis, in Classical Mythology, is the goddess of retribution or vengeance. We might say this represents the Crown of New South Wales dealing out justice to wrongdoers.

Criminals should watch out - this is swooping season.

25 October, from NSW Police Force: Attention Commonwealth Bank customers! Expecting a refund of fifty dollarydoos to hit your account?

Commbank fears scammers may take advantage of their $50 refund program for customers affected by recent outages. Eligible customers will receive automatic refunds. Do not engage with anyone claiming to be contacting you about the refund.

25 October, from Northern Beaches command: Crooks are smart.

They'll use technology to work out where you live, or just follow you home if you give them the chance. Then they'll come back in the middle of the night, equipped with gear to cut through chains and locks, break into your garage if that's where it's kept, to take your bike to rebirth and sell. Particular targets are those advertising their bike for sale or who visit motorcycle clubs, meetings or chat rooms.

So, if you're selling your bike:

- don't include your home address or the place where the bike is kept
- don't include pictures that identify where you live, either through the surroundings or geocoding
- don't arrange to meet buyers at or near your address or where the bike is kept
- do meet in a place that's busy; perhaps close to a shopping strip or car park
- don't go directly home from meeting with anyone you don't know, they could follow you.

If you're at rallies, meetings or in chat rooms,

- don't let people know where you live or your bike is kept.

In short, don't leave a trail to your bike for thieves to follow. It's what they do.

Motor cycle owners beware... The thieves are back

ALGAL BLOOM | An estuarine bloom has been sighted in the Berowra Creek estuary in the vicinity of Berowra Waters Marina and Dust Hole Boat Ramp at the end of Bay Road, Berowra Waters.

The bloom appears as an orangey-red discolouration in the water. Tests have confirmed the presence of Heterosigma akashiwo, a potentially toxic marine species.

Due to the tidal influence it is possible for this bloom to move around and present in other areas of the Berowra Creek estuary. Contact should be avoided and as a precaution consumption of any seafood (oysters, mussels, clams, crabs) caught within the area should be avoided. Ensure fish caught during the bloom period are thoroughly cleaned and the guts disposed of.

Hornsby Shire Council are erecting signage around Berowra Waters. Council will continue monitoring the situation and further testing will be conducted.

25 October, from Neighbourhood Watch: St Ives: Shared from St Ives Community Group:

I don't know if it is ignorance or just bad manners, but how appropriate to witness a person getting booked for not picking up after their dog in St Ives Chase yesterday. There are regular offenders and may they miss the $500 fined.

IT has been a busy start to the official storm season for Hornsby SES with crews receiving more than 20 calls for assistance last week.

Eleven of those calls came on Thursday as wind gusts of 80km/h battered suburbs right across the Bushland Shire, including Mt Colah, Galston, Brooklyn, Cowan and Middle Dural.

One house in Westleigh had a particularly close call when two large trees came loose at the root ball and caused some damage to the veranda.

A two-man team from Hornsby SES responded to the scene and took one-and-a-half hours to remove the fallen trees while battling fading light.

The dangerous start to the storm season comes after Berowra Heights was named the state's most storm damage-prone suburb over the past 12 months.

For emergency assistance in a storm or flood, contact NSW SES on 132 500.

For life threatening emergencies, call triplezero (000).

23 October, from 9news.com.au: 'Shame guilt and a moment of madness': Illegal online gambling sites preying on young Australians

Thomas Vives-Kerl, a keen surfer and skater from Sydney's northern beaches, had just started a locksmith apprenticeship when he fell into an online gambling trap that would make his life unbearable.

The 21-year-old thought he'd hit the jackpot when he put $200 into the website Emu Casino and won $30,000, but within weeks he went from a happy-go-lucky winner to the depths of despair. He never got to spend the $30,000 and instead put almost every cent back into the site, until he only had $2 left. One day in desperation he took his own life. Read full story here.

police and let them know as they are looking into it (rego plate details would be awesome too).
