

Kuring-gai NSW Police Local Area Command (LAC)

eNewsletter # 230 - 07 March 2016

This weekly eNewsletter is compiled by Neighbourhood Watch volunteers as a service for residents in the NSW Police Force Kuring-gai Local Area Command (LAC), which includes most of the Hornsby and Ku-ring-gai council areas. The eNewsletter is a new type of Neighbourhood Watch; utilising the available technology to keep people more connected and up-to-date with local crime and safety issues.

The eNewsletter includes a selection of posts from the Kuring Gai LAC Facebook page click here (also known as 'eyewatch'), primarily for those not familiar with Facebook. We add anything interesting from a Neighbourhood Watch point-of-view - this could be a local newspaper article, a roadwork warning, crime prevention tip(s), an upcoming Neighbourhood Watch meeting, Q&As from residents, or an item from an other Police command ("Crooks know no boundaries!"). Have you seen anything we should share with the community? Click here to email NHW in Ku-ring-gai and Hornsby. We do value your contributions. Thank you for your support.

Please feel free to share/forward this eNewsletter with your friends, family, colleagues and neighbours. To subscribe, click here.

ICYMI: For Safer Internet Day 2016 we created a new video for teens with a very important message. Give it a watch!

04 March from the Australian Federal Police: Australian Federal Police, Hobart Office have received a number of calls in the last 24 hours regarding an email that is currently circulating. Under no circumstances do the Australian Federal Police make initial contact with members of the public in this way. If you receive an email of this nature - please disregard.

The Australian Federal Police is a progressive and multi-faceted law enforcement organisation taking a strong lead in the fight against 21st century crime.

The AFP has responded to a rapidly changing environment and this has required a greater focus on national and international operations. 02 March, from NRMA: TEST TIME: You are driving vehicle A on a multi-lane road. The road changes from multi-lane to single lane and you need to merge with other traffic. There are no lane markings.

- a) Both vehicle B and C have to give way to you
- b) You have to give way to both vehicle B and C because they are on your right
- c) You should give way to vehicle B because it is travelling ahead of you and vehicle C should give way to you because you are travelling ahead of it.

TEST TIME ANSWER: The answer is that vehicle A must give way to vehicle B and Vehicle C must give way to Vehicle A. When lines of traffic merge where there are no lane lines to be crossed, a driver must give way to any vehicle ahead of them. This is often called a zipper merge. 01 March, from Assistant Commissioner Hartley speaking about Operation

Watchtower [edited]

“We know that the effects of alcohol are wide-ranging and impossible to avoid. After a big night out you may still have alcohol in your system the next day. With drug drivers, we know that cannabis slows down reactions and reduces abilities to respond to situations. The drug changes a person’s perception of distance and time, lowers concentration, reduces coordination and can make you drowsy. Cannabis users often don’t realise their driving is affected until they are faced with an unexpected situation. It is only after they in danger that they realise they are incapable of making a quick or correct decision,” Assistant Commissioner Hartley said.

The affects of alcohol can include:

- Slows your brain so that you can’t respond to situations, make decisions or react quickly,
- Reduces your ability to judge how fast you are moving or your distance from other cars, people or objects,
- Gives you a false sense of confidence “ you may take greater risks, thinking that your driving is better than it really is,
- Makes it harder to do more than one thing at a time “ while you concentrate on steering, you could miss seeing traffic lights, cars entering from side streets or pedestrians,
- Affects your sense of balance “ a big risk if you ride a motorcycle,
- Makes you drowsy “ you could fall asleep at the wheel.

Illicit drugs, such as ecstasy or any form of amphetamine, can cause people to:

- Believe you drive better than you actually can,
- Drive aggressively and take more risks,
- Be overstimulated and lose concentration,
- Have blurry or limited vision,
- See things on the road that aren’t where you think they are.

ASQUITH

3 Police were called to Wall Ave about 1am on Saturday for a noise complaint. While driving to the location they were flagged down by a 19-year-old man who had his thumb out asking for a ride home. Police said they were not a taxi service but he demanded they take him home as it was "their job", he allegedly said. Police told the man he should call a taxi and he then started swearing at police. He was advised swearing in public is an offence and he walked away but continued swearing. Police gave him a fine for offensive language and then continued to the noise complaint.

Pedestrians targeted

● In 2014 there were 1595 pedestrian casualties in NSW. Distracted? is the name of a pedestrian safety campaign, a joint initiative of 10 Northern Sydney Councils, in conjunction with Roads & Maritime Services. The campaign includes print advertising, face-to-face promotions and outdoor advertising.

HORNSBY

2 Police would like to speak to a man who adjusted a CCTV camera before punching a building. About 12.43am on Monday a man described from CCTV images as caucasian, slim, about 175cm tall, with a shaved head wearing a white jumper with black sports pants was seen approaching glass sliding doors of the Madison building on Hunter Lane. The man adjusted the angle of the CCTV camera and appears to strike out at the glass door. He was then seen to punch the intercom system on the wall before walking away. The automatic doors now only open manually. A man of similar description is a suspect for a break and enter offence committed in Hornsby CBD shortly after this incident.

HORNSBY

4 A glass panel near the Kmart entrance to Westfield Hornsby was kicked in at about 3.30pm on Sunday. Police will review the CCTV footage and may have a suspect. About a $1000 damage was done to the 3m tall door.

GALSTON

6 A handbag, the contents of a wallet and a mobile phone were stolen from a Toyota Kluger parked on Galston Rd between 6am and 7am on Wednesday. Anyone with information about the theft should phone Crime Stoppers on 1800 333 000.

NORMANHURST

HORNSBY

10 A third floor unit was broken into on Linda St between 11am and 4.30pm on Monday. A laptop and a tablet worth $1100 were stolen. A key that was hidden outside the unit so a child could access the unit after school is missing.

HORNSBY

11 A woman and her two children were seen scooping coins out of the Hornsby Fountain at Hornsby Mall on Friday about 3pm. They were using sticks to move the coins closer to the edge and then taking the money to a busker who was performing in the mall.

Day guilty on tanker flip charge

Sophie Tarr, AAP

A SYDNEY truck driver acquitted of dangerous driving over a fiery crash that killed a Turramurra man and his passenger has now been found guilty of negligent driving occasioning death.

Shane Anthony Day was cleared by a jury on February 19 of dangerous driving occasioning death and grievous bodily harm over the 2013 incident, in which Day's fuel tanker flipped, crashed into several cars and burst into flames in Mona Vale.

On Wednesday, however, Sydney District Court Judge Leonie Flannery found the former Cootes driver guilty of the lesser charge.

Judge Flannery said she was satisfied Day had been driving too fast and had ignored a sign warning truck drivers to use a low gear while travelling down Mona Vale Rd in October 2013.

Peter Wem, 73, from Turramurra, and his passenger Graham Holtfreter, 71, died.

Judge Flannery is expected to hand down her sentence today.

PUT THE CAT IN THE BAG

WHEN fleeing a bushfire or epic storm, experts recommend putting the cat in a pillowslip on your way out the door.

SES spokeswoman Heidi Groom said they frequently encounter people who don't own cages or cat carriers, or enough for multiple pets.

"There has been loss of life in some circumstances where people just won't leave without their animals," Ms Groom said.

The temporary pillowslip option also works for rabbits and guinea pigs, she said.
