Ku-ring-gai & Hornsby

eNewsletter #716 - 01 July 2025

This weekly eNewsletter is compiled by Neighbourhood Watch (NHW) volunteers as a service for residents in Ku-ring-gai and Hornsby council areas. The eNewsletter is a new type of Neighbourhood Watch; utilising the available technology to keep people more connected and up-to-date with local crime and safety issues.

The eNewsletter includes a selection of posts from our local police at the Ku-ring-gai PAC Facebook page (also known as 'eyewatch'), primarily for those not familiar with Facebook. We add anything interesting from a Neighbourhood Watch point-of-view - this could be a local newspaper article, a roadwork warning, crime prevention tip(s), an upcoming Neighbourhood Watch meeting, Q&As from residents, or an item from another Police command ("Crooks know no boundaries!").

🚗 Have you seen anything we should share with the community? Please email our NHW in Ku-ring-gai & Hornsby volunteers. We do value your contributions and thank you for your support.

Control Laws

Coercive control laws have been a criminal offence in NSW for one year.

Coercive control is when a person uses abusive behaviours towards a current or former partner with the intention to coerce or control them.

But I've never been hit...

Coercive control can involve any behaviour which scares, hurts, isolates, humiliates, harasses, monitors, takes away another person's freedom or unreasonably controls their day-to-day activities. It can include physical violence and sexual abuse, but it doesn't have to.

30 June, from The Hills command: 🚒 Police Pursuit – Glenorie 🚒

An 18-year-old male has been charged following a dangerous pursuit through Kenthurst and Glenorie in the early hours of Sunday 29/06/2025.

At approximately 11:55pm, officers from the Police Dog Unit - NSW Police Force observed a Toyota Hilux speeding along Kenthurst Road. When police attempted to stop the vehicle for random testing, the driver accelerated harshly and fled the area 🚗💨.

A pursuit was initiated as the Hilux allegedly reached speeds of up to 120 km/h in a 70 km/h zone, weaving through Old Northern Road, Cranstons Road, Garmyn Road, and back again. The vehicle eventually turned into Sermelfi Drive, Glenorie, and disappeared behind a residential property.

Police attended the address linked to the vehicle and were met by the driver's father. Shortly after, the 18-year-old male presented himself to police. He was arrested, taken to The Hills Police Station, and issued with a licence suspension notice and he was charged with Police Pursuit. The matter is now before the court next month ⚖️.

01 July, from NHW Australasia: Heading to an Airbnb, holiday park, or short-term rental these school holidays?

Here are five tips to protect your belongings and give you peace of mind:

1. 🗨️ When you arrive, check all the entry points, especially sliding doors and older windows.
2. 🚪 It's easy to relax in holiday mode, but always lock doors and windows when you're inside, especially at night or when showering.
3. 📱 Keep phones, wallets, laptops and car keys away from open windows and not visible from the street.
4. 📷 If you're travelling with expensive gear, take a quick photo of serial numbers in case of loss or theft. It'll help later with police reports and insurance.
5. 👤 Say hello to neighbours, but don't share too many details about how long you're staying or if the place is empty during the day.

Nice try but not an Australian number.

01 July, Shared with permission from the North Shore Mums group yesterday (Monday):

I was driving down Pretoria Parade in Hornsby about 6.30pm today and there was a teen boy riding (very carefully I will add) on the road in dark clothes, dark helmet and no lights and very little if any reflective things on the bike. I saw him but it wasn't easy when it's this dark. It made me very worried about what could happen if he wasn't seen, especially if coming around a corner. Thought I'd post so we can take the opportunity to check how visible our kids are in the dark when riding home and maybe give them some tips.

01 July, from the Australian Centre to Counter Child Exploitation: Do you know a child or young person who's excited for the school holidays?

As well as their other activities, school holidays typically mean children and young people are spending more time online, whether it's gaming, keeping up with friends, or posting about their adventures. The holidays are a great reminder to have a "check-in" with your child about being safe online.

Here are our favourite ways to start an online safety conversation:

-  What do you like to do online?
-  Who do you like to chat to online?
-  What would you do if someone online asks you to do something that makes you feel uncomfortable?
-  What are some of our family rules for device use?
-  Who can you go to you for help?

30 June, from Berowra Rural Fire Brigade: Fire hydrants are a vital resource for firefighters when they need access to water during a fire.

It's important to keep hydrants clear of grass, debris or other obstructions so they can be accessed quickly in an emergency. Do you know where your closest hydrant is? Take a moment to look around outside and see if you can spot it. In residential areas, hydrants are typically located beside the road or footpath and are usually spaced every 100 metres.

29 June, from Neighbourhood Watch (NHW) Ku-ring-gai & Hornsby: Today Neighbourhood Watch volunteers helped with 'cocooning' letterbox drops in Hornsby.

Cocooning is the idea of warning residents around where an incident has occurred. Our Crime Prevention Officer at Ku-ring-gai Police Area Command, Senior Constable Gemma Stokes, without identifying the actual residence for privacy reasons, identifies letterboxes around the area where community alerts can be delivered. Gemma prints off different community alerts depending on the type of offence. Hopefully the warning will prompt neighbours to be more vigilant, careful and less likely to become a victim. Thank you to Gemma, volunteers, Kerrie, Pasquale and Julia.

26 June, from NSW Government: Everyone completing a Responsible Service of Alcohol (RSA) course in NSW will now be trained to recognise and respond to sexual harassment and sexual violence.

This Australian-first initiative aims to make pubs, clubs, bars and other venues safer for everyone.

26 June, from Hannah's Blue Butterflies Road Safety Awareness: CAN I WEAR A HELMET WITH A TINTED VISOR AT NIGHT?

No, you should not wear a tinted visor on your motorcycle helmet at night.

Tinted visors significantly reduce visibility in low-light conditions, making it harder to see obstacles, other vehicles, and potential hazards. It's recommended to switch to a clear visor for nighttime riding for safety.

Why tinted visors are not safe for night riding.

- Reduced Visibility:
Darker tints reduce the amount of light reaching your eyes, making it difficult to see details and react quickly to changing road conditions.
- Increased Risk of Accidents:
Reduced visibility can lead to delayed reaction times and increase the risk of accidents, especially in low-light or challenging weather conditions.
- Not Road Legal:
Many tinted visors are not road legal, and some even state they are not suitable for night riding.

Alternatives for night riding

- Clear Visor:
A clear visor provides optimal visibility in low-light conditions and is the safest option for night riding.
 - Photochromatic Visor:
These visors automatically adjust to the amount of light, darkening in bright sunlight and clearing in low-light or at night.

- Transition Visor:
Similar to photochromatic visors, these use a material that darkens in sunlight and remains clear at night.
- Modular Helmet with Drop-Down Sun Visor:
These helmets have a tinted visor that can be lowered when needed during the day and retracted at night.
- Clear Glasses:
If you have a tinted visor and cannot switch to a clear one, wearing clear glasses underneath can offer some eye protection and improved visibility at night.

Having clear visibility is essential in staying safe on the roads.

26 June, from Tiny Hearts Education: Parents remember this - If your child falls from a height that is double their height, they need immediate medical attention.

It was this advice that pushed a mum to bring her bub into the hospital when her 6 month old rolled off the change table when her mum turned around to grab a wipe. It was later found through a scan that there was a 5cm fracture in the skull. Thankfully there was no bleeding or obvious brain damage.

🧠 Parents remember these words: If your child falls from a height that is double their height, they need immediate medical attention.

Reminder for you:

- 🧠 Signs and symptoms after a fall don't always show up straight away
 - 🧠 Falling from a height that is double a child's height puts them at risk of a moderate to severe head injury
 - 🧠 Moderate to severe head injuries = call 000 for an ambulance.

26 June, from ACCC Product Safety: If you own an IKEA 365+ VÄRDEFULL garlic press black, stop use immediately: they have been recalled.

This Australian-first initiative aims to make pubs, clubs, bars and other venues safer for everyone.

26 June, from Hannah's Blue Butterflies Road Safety Awareness: CAN I WEAR A HELMET WITH A TINTED VISOR AT NIGHT?

No, you should not wear a tinted visor on your motorcycle helmet at night.

Tinted visors significantly reduce visibility in low-light conditions, making it harder to see obstacles, other vehicles, and potential hazards. It's recommended to switch to a clear visor for nighttime riding for safety.

Why tinted visors are not safe for night riding.

- Reduced Visibility:
Darker tints reduce the amount of light reaching your eyes, making it difficult to see details and react quickly to changing road conditions.
 - Increased Risk of Accidents:
Reduced visibility can lead to delayed reaction times and increase the risk of accidents, especially in low-light or challenging weather conditions.

- Not Road Legal:
Many tinted visors are not road legal, and some even state they are not suitable for night riding.

Alternatives for night riding

- Clear Visor:
A clear visor provides optimal visibility in low-light conditions and is the safest option for night riding.
- Photochromatic Visor:
These visors automatically adjust to the amount of light, darkening in bright sunlight and clearing in low-light or at night.
- Transition Visor:
Similar to photochromatic visors, these use a material that darkens in sunlight and remains clear at night.
- Modular Helmet with Drop-Down Sun Visor:
These helmets have a tinted visor that can be lowered when needed during the day and retracted at night.
- Clear Glasses:
If you have a tinted visor and cannot switch to a clear one, wearing clear glasses underneath can offer some eye protection and improved visibility at night.

Having clear visibility is essential in staying safe on the roads.

26 June, from Tiny Hearts Education: Parents remember this - If your child falls from a height that is double their height, they need immediate medical attention.

It was this advice that pushed a mum to bring her bub into the hospital when her 6 month old rolled off the change table when her mum turned around to grab a wipe. It was later found through a scan that there was a 5cm fracture in the skull. Thankfully there was no bleeding or obvious brain damage.

🧠 Parents remember these words: If your child falls from a height that is double their height, they need immediate medical attention.

Reminder for you:

- 🧠 Signs and symptoms after a fall don't always show up straight away
- 🧠 Falling from a height that is double a child's height puts them at risk of a moderate to severe head injury
- 🧠 Moderate to severe head injuries = call 000 for an ambulance.

26 June, from ACCC Product Safety: If you own an IKEA 365+ VÄRDEFULL garlic press black, stop use immediately: they have been recalled.

Small metal pieces can detach from the press during use. There is a risk of serious injury if swallowed with food. Injuries have occurred.
